

MacMillan Specialist Palliative Care Team

What is specialist palliative care?

It is care and support for people with very serious illnesses. We look at things like:

- quality of life
- symptom control
- things that matter to you

We work closely with Wirral Hospice St Johns.

Our team

Specialist nurses who see people in hospital and at home:

- our physiotherapist, occupational therapist, dietician and medical social worker can only visit you at home

How do we help?

We advise your carers and help you to talk about things that matter to you. These may include:

- your physical problems
- money, home or spiritual concerns
- future concerns as you near the end of your life

How to access our service

With your agreement, any healthcare professional caring for you can refer you to our service.
